WEST RAYNHAM

West Raynham is a charming Norfolk village, part of the historic Raynham estate and approximately 5 miles south-west of the nearby market town of Fakenham. The village is renowned for Raynham Hall, which is surrounded by extensive parkland and picturesque grounds, offering scenic walks through woodland, meadows, and past historic buildings. The village itself features a primary school, village hall, and a strong sense of community with various events organised throughout the year, including fetes and an annual festival. The nearby River Wensum adds to the rural appeal, while the remnants of St Margaret's Church provide a glimpse into the area's rich history. Fakenham offers a weekly market, supermarkets, schools, healthcare, restaurants, pubs, cinema, bowling alley and golf and race course. Other nearby towns include Swaffham, King's Lynn and Wells-next-the-Sea, all within easy reach, making West Raynham an ideal base for exploring North Norfolk.
