Amenities: The Cotswold village of Painswick to the north of Stroud is considered by many to be the most sought after village within the Stroud Valleys. The village still retains many impressive Georgian properties with numerous Cotswold stone cottages and a church with a renowned number of Yew Trees. The village offers a number of shops including grocery, post office, antique shops, and a golf course. There are two Public Houses and a Primary School. The main town centre of Stroud is 4 miles to the south and the cities of Gloucester / Cheltenham are 5 and 7 miles to the north. Both can offer a comprehensive range of shopping and banking facilities, first class schooling facilities catering for all grades and age groups and both have a Leisure Centre, British Rail mainline station and access to the M5 & M4 motorways.
