In the heart of Worthing, merely moments from the beach. With the promenade at one end of the road and independent shops and cafes at the other, this impeccable period home blends original features with deluxe contemporary detailing. With scope to extend further (STNC), a 3 storey layout opens onto a courtyard garden and benefits from off-road parking.

Step inside...

Within a 150 metre stroll from the beach and promenade, this beautifully preserved mid-terrace period home unfolds across the three storeys of a sensitively composed and extended layout. Remaining hugely respectful of its period heritage, it is rich in original features whilst utterly luxurious in its contemporary detailing whilst the already enhanced layout has further scope for conversion (STNC).

Behind an original flint walled frontage the encaustic patterns of a tiled path give an instant hint of the abundance of charm within. Inside, sunlight dances the classic hues of an original stained glass wood door across an immaculate hallway where elegant cornicing wraps-around above you and a refined monochrome floor stretches out beneath your feet. This striking space unfolds in turn into the accomplished open plan layout of a spacious living/dining room that's both sophisticated and family friendly. Window shutters line the wide bay windows of the exemplary large living room, and while a wood burner nestles in the fireplace, the warming tones of a first class herringbone floor flow seamlessly into the dining room.

Generating a superbly fluid feel that's ideal for modern family life, this duo of rooms connects to an adjoining kitchen that lends a magnificent contemporary twist to its period surroundings with the deluxe design of cabinetry topped with contrasting marble veined quartz. The extensive proportions flow around a central island with copious bar stool seating and a fantastic array of integrated appliances includes tower ovens, a linear gas hob, slanted extractor and wine cooler. A further wood burner softens the sleek clean lines and whilst feature LEDs supply mood lighting, French doors tempt you out into the courtyard garden for al fresco drinks and barbeques.

A utility area keeps laundry appliances hidden from view and a ground floor cloakroom is ideal for guests.

Follow the carved banisters and stylish runner of the staircase and upstairs you'll find four more than generous bedrooms and two bath/shower rooms peppering the upper two storeys. On the first floor each of the bedrooms has a picture perfect period fireplace, including a sublime main bedroom with a vast expanse of fitted wardrobes and bay windows that lend the ideal spot for a chaise lounge. Upstairs a fourth bedroom adds to the flexibility of the accommodation. Together these immaculate rooms share a sleek first floor shower room with smoky grey glass and matt black fittings, and an equally fabulous second floor bathroom that has the indulgent luxury of a Jacuzzi bath arranged in a sultry tile setting.

Step Outside...

The French doors of the kitchen open to allow a landscaped west facing courtyard garden to play an integral part of your daily life. Paved and enclosed with high slatted fencing, its notable dimensions provide you with every chance to enjoy lazy summer afternoons or al fresco entertaining with family and friends. A double gate gives rear access.
